REPORT:

The Committee on Private Land Claims, to whom have been referred the claims of Pierre Molaison, the widow of Pierre Richoux, Alexander Co-meau, Alice L. Foley, widow of John Foley, and François Martin, of the State of Louisiana, report :

That these several claims are for small tracts of land, shown to have been actually inhabited and cultivated by the claimants, respectively, since the time the country was first ceded to the United States, and before.

The committee are of opinion that these claims come within the provision of the laws for the adjustment of land claims in the Territory of Orleans; and they accordingly report a bill for their confirmation.
